

How to create a Google Scholar Profile:

1. You need a gmail account. If you want a CAS uoregon gmail account (name@cas.uoregon.edu), go to <https://casit.uoregon.edu/system-services/google-signup>
2. Set up an account – Go to scholar.google.com and click on the “My Citations” link at the top of the page.

3. Choose the gmail account to associate with your profile and sign in
4. Takes you to the Profile page.
- 5.

The image shows the 'Step 1: Profile' page of the Google Scholar profile creation process. The page has a header with 'Google Scholar' and a navigation bar with 'Step 1: Profile', 'Step 2: Articles', and 'Step 3: Updates'. Below the header is a section titled 'Track citations to your publications. Appear in Google Scholar search results for your name.' This section contains several input fields: 'Name' (with a hint to use the full name as it appears on papers), 'Affiliation' (with a hint to use an example like 'Professor of Computer Science, Stanford University'), 'Email for verification' (with a hint to use an email address at your institution), 'Areas of interest' (with a hint to use an example like 'Artificial Intelligence, Conservation Biology, Pricing Theory'), and 'Homepage' (with a hint to use an example like 'http://example.edu/~yourname'). At the bottom of the form is a blue 'Next step' button. Below the form are links for 'Help', 'Privacy', 'Terms', 'Provide feedback', and 'My Citations'.

Add your details with your institutional email account and up to 5 areas of interest, click “Next Step” (blue button at bottom)

6. Takes you to add articles page. It says: Find articles that you've written and add them to your profile. Later, you can edit or delete the articles in your profile or add more articles to your profile. It also provides Add article buttons under different versions of your name or similar names. Click on the Add all articles under the right name(s) or use the “see all articles” option to see which are correct. You can change the list later, so it is often easier to “add all” and then go in and edit. Click Next Step.
7. Next page is to choose between manual or automatic updates. Then click on Go to my profile (Blue button).
8. From here you can add or remove citations.
9. Check it has all publications and change photo, etc.
10. When you are satisfied, select “Make it public” option in the profile at top of page
