

Conducting human subjects research involving children or teens?

If you are conducting or plan to conduct research involving children and/or teens as participants in research, this workshop is for you! Staff from the UO's Research Compliance Services will review ethical considerations, Institutional Review Board (IRB) requirements, and best practices. Come to ask questions about your individual research projects and hear tips from experienced researchers.

Human Subjects Research Involving Children & Teens

May 3, 2018

2pm – 4 pm

Hedco, Room 230T

Course registration is available for faculty and staff through Human Resources' My Track. Students can register by contacting our office. Questions? Just Ask!

Research Compliance Services

researchcompliance@uoregon.edu

541-346-2510

For more information about this and other workshops visit: <http://rcs.uoregon.edu/content/education-training>