

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

School of Law

YOUTH & SOCIAL CHANGE

How do youth see and act on the world?

How did “youth” come to be a distinctive population? Why are youth both maligned and romanticized by the adult world? What does it mean for youth to be the “vanguard of social change?” And why are urban youth feared and discriminated against by authorities?

Get answers and much more in the new course

YOUTH & SOCIAL CHANGE CRN 37057

Spring Term 2016 • Mon / Wed, 2pm-3:50pm • Knight Law Center, Room 142

UNDERGRADUATE LEGAL STUDIES

law.uoregon.edu/explore/2016-spring.courses

For available courses, text GOLAW to 41411

Msg & Data rates may apply. Approximately 1 msg per month. Reply STOP to opt-out. Reply HELP for help. Terms & privacy policy: t.41411.com