

Are you graduating? If so, congratulations! Please read this important information below.

University Commencement Ceremony

The university's official commencement ceremony happens at the conclusion of spring term each year. This year's ceremony is the morning of Monday, June 13, 2016. All seniors graduating fall, winter, spring or summer are invited to celebrate with their class and attend the 2016 spring ceremony. The ceremony is open to your family and guests as well. Visit commencement.uoregon.edu for full details, including information about the Duck Grad Parade.

Apply for Your Degree

Any graduating student can participate in the spring commencement exercises, regardless of what term you actually complete your degree requirements. However, in order to make your degree official, you must apply for your degree on DuckWeb. Undergraduate student applications for spring term graduation are due by April 24, 2016. Graduate student applications for spring term graduation are due by April 8, 2016. The Office of the Registrar can help answer degree-related questions.

Caps, Gowns & More

Order your graduation essentials starting March 28 at The Duck Store. Don't miss The Duck Store's Grad Fair on April 4-7 at the 13th Avenue & Kincaid Street location. Pick up your online order or shop for everything you need, and meet with vendors for regalia, class rings, announcements and more. All graduation packages include a one-year UO Alumni Association membership. You will receive a $10 Duck Store gift card when you order your package online or at Grad Fair on or before April 7.

Department Ceremonies

In addition to the University ceremony, individual schools and colleges (as well as some departments and programs) hold ceremonies for their individual graduates. Please check with your academic major department for information on how to participate in a ceremony for your major.

Alumni InDUCKtion

On Sunday, June 12, the night before the University Commencement Ceremony, join the UO Alumni Association for a champagne and dessert reception from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Ford Alumni Center to honor new graduates. This event is free for graduating seniors and their families. An exclusive email invitation will be coming your way soon.
